

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A pair of eyeglasses comprises a pair of myopic, hypermetropic, or presbyopic lenses, a pair of endpieces having rear ends coupled to temples, each endpiece including a horizontal first hole at a forward end for permitting a
5 fastener to drive into to secure the first endpiece to the lens, and two elongate first slots above and under the first hole respectively, a bridge interconnected the lenses, the bridge including two horizontal second holes at both ends for permitting two fasteners to drive into to secure the bridge to the lens, and two elongate second slots above and under the second hole respectively, and a pair
10 of tinted lenses each including an inner recess snugly fitted onto the second slots and an outer recess snugly fitted onto the first slots.